

Interesting Information and Shareholder's Guide

Dividend

1. What is EGCO dividend policy?

EGCO has a policy to pay consistent dividend to shareholders, linked to the underlying earnings performance of the business. In the absence of unforeseen circumstances, EGCO has a policy to dividend approximately 40% of the consolidated net profit after tax, or to increase the dividend amount in a steady manner, to the shareholders. This dividend policy may change in the light of investment opportunities that may become available to EGCO or as a result of other economic or financial factors or when a dividend payment may have a significant impact on EGCO's normal operation. The dividend payment shall not exceed the retained earnings of the separated financial statements.

2. What are dividend payment dates?

The payment of dividends shall be made within 1 month of the date of the resolution of the shareholder meeting or of the Board of Directors' meeting, as the case may be, in accordance with the Public Limited Companies Act B.E. 2535 Section 115 and EGCO's Articles of Association Section 41.

EGCO tries its best to pay dividend to shareholders as earliest as possible. EGCO usually declares an interim dividend for the first half-year operation and final dividend for the second half-year operation around September and May, respectively.

interest into bank accounts after a securities issuer requests to make dividend/ interest payments to bank accounts of securities holders or securities owners.

Registration and Securities Certificate

1. How do I transfer my share certificate?

Securities in scrip form may be transferred from the transferor (the previous holder) to the transferee (the new holder) by following the procedure as set out below.

- A transferor signs his/her name on the back of the scrip in the transferor box.
- A transferee signs his/her name on the back of the scrip in the transferee box.
- The transferee fills in and submits an Application for Registration of Securities Transfer together with a securities certificate and other supporting evidence from both transferor and transferee as required by TSD.
- TSD verifies and register the transfer and issues a new certificate to the transferee (if required).

The securities transfer can be made either by having the registrar to sign, as approval of the registration of the transfer, on the existing securities certificate and send the said certificate to the transferee (no new certificate issued) or the new certificate is issued in the name of the transferee. In the former case, the transferee can receive the certificate promptly at the time the registration of the transfer is accepted by the registrar. However, in case of the latter, it would require 30 days for the registrar to issue a new certificate and, at the transferee's choice, have it ready at the registrar's office for the transferee, or the transferee's delegated person, to pick up (upon a surrender of an evidence previously issued by TSD) or have it delivered, via registered mail, to the transferee at the given address.

2. What happens if I lost my securities certificate?

Share certificates are valuable documents- keep them safely. However, if you lose it, here are the procedures that you should follow through.

Firstly, you must have a police notice which is one of a crucial supporting evidence for TSD to re-issue the replacement securities certificate. Other documents that are required to be submitted are:

- An application form for issuance of a new securities certificate in replacement of a lost securities certificate;
- The police notice;
- Certified copy of the shareholder' identification card; and
- Other supporting documents as deemed necessary by TSD.
- For more information, please contact TSD Call Center Tel. 66 (0) 2229-2888.

3. What should I do if I change my name or my address?

In order to update the personal information, you should submit a Request Form for Rectifying Items in the Securities Holder Record together with relevant document(s) as required by TSD in person or by mail. In case of the change of title, first name, or last name, the original securities certificate is required to be presented in exchange of the newly issued one.

The address given to the registrar should be an address that is proper for registered mailing purpose. There must be any person at such address to receive the documents upon delivery. Also, in accordance with the regulations set out by the Department of Business Development of the Ministry of Commerce, such address may not be a postal box.

For a shareholder who deposits his/her securities with broker/custodian, he/she has to contact the broker/custodian to have his/her information updated. The updated information will be applied to any particular distribution of benefit only when the update is made at least 5 business days prior to the respective register book closing or the record date (as the case may be).

4. What should I do if I want to converse the securities certificate to scripless?

There are two ways to converse the securities certificate to scripless as follows.

- You can deposit the securities through securities companies that you have the account;
- You can also deposit the securities in the Issuer Account at TSD (in case you have not got the account with any security companies by contacting TSD counter services; or
- For further details, please contact TSD Call Center Tel. +66 (0) 2229 2888.

Shareholders' Annual General Meeting

1. When does the Company hold the shareholders' annual general meeting?

By virtue of Section 98 of the Public Limited Companies Act B.E. 2535 and Section 29 of the Company's Articles of Association, EGCO shall call an annual ordinary general meeting of the shareholders ("AGM") within 4 months from the last day of its fiscal year. EGCO shareholders' annual general meeting is usually held in April. The annual general meeting is one of the major events of EGCO and an important opportunity for shareholders to meet directors and management.

2. What happens if I can't attend the AGM?

As EGCO is your company, we encourage all shareholders to exercise your right. If you are unable to attend the meeting, you can appoint a proxy to attend the meeting and vote on your behalf by using a proxy form as attached with the notice of shareholders' meeting or printing a proxy form on EGCO's website at www.egco.com. The proxy does not need to be EGCO's shareholders. The voting right has to be assigned to only one proxy, therefore, this voting right cannot be split and separately assigned to more than one proxy. Normally, EGCO shall propose at least one independent director of the Company to be a proxy.

4. How do I vote at an AGM?

Each shareholder has the voting rights equal to the number of shares held in EGCO (one share one vote). The shareholders must vote for all number of shares and cannot split the number of shares for voting in favor, against and abstention in the same proposal. EGCO will announce the voting procedure during the AGM so that shareholders can follow and cast their votes as they wish.

5. How should I inform the intention to attend the shareholders' meeting in advance?

You can inform the intention to attend the shareholders' meeting via IVR system of TSD starting from the date of receiving the notice of shareholders' annual meeting until three days prior to the meeting date. The steps to walk through are as follows:

- 1) Call TSD Center : Tel. +66 (0) 2229 2888
- 2) Press 7 for registration to shareholder meeting
- 3) Press code number in fourteen digits (First 4 digits is 0465/the next 10 digits is shareholders' registration no. which appears on the Registration Form)
- 4) Confirm code number
- 5) Result will be informed by IVR system

This information will help EGCO properly prepare the AGM.
